The New York State Education Department is committed to working with schools to help ensure students have “all the time, everywhere” access to devices and high speed internet, both at school and at their places of residence.

At Newfield Central Schools we want to be able to support you in the best ways we can. During our emergency remote learning this Spring, we were able to provide devices and provide information for internet providers and services in this region. As we look at plans for this Fall, we need some very specific feedback from you.

Do you have reliable high-speed internet at your home? Please check the appropriate box
